

LEARNING ON SCREEN AWARDS JURY COMMENTS

Student Undergraduate Production

Nominations

I am Dyslexic

This animated short film expresses what it feels like to have a learning difference in the current school system. The judges commented on the stunning animation and the importance and accessibility of its message.

Husky

Husky is a coming of age story of Marcus, a 16 year-old boy on the brink of adulthood, living on a London council estate with a group of childhood friends. The judges commended the editing and camera work and in particular praised the atmospheric opening.

Lazar

Lazar was made to highlight some of the issues currently present in today's society, exploring the themes of immigration and community. Judges praised the high production values and tackling of important social issues.

Spilt Milk

Spilt Milk is a short film that follows the story of Scarlett, a troubled young girl who finds a best friend in Frankie, a kind-hearted boy who comes to her aid. Judges commented that this was a beautifully shot piece and praised the cinematography and use of split screens.

Winner

Spilt Milk

An impressive piece with sensitive and subtly nuanced performances.